

The Laborer Co.

Opp. Howland's 1044 Main Street

LINGERIE DRESSES

$3.98 up to $35

Handsome, Practical styles of these needed Summer Dresses—a very Complete array—a showing that is winning favor on every side.

As to Prices, they are Moderate enough to attract the Most Economically inclined.

White and the liked colors.

PAINTING BOOK BARGAINS

"Young Artist Painting Book" teaches painting and drawing, with many colored plates, 25 cts only. Paints free from poison to use on the same, 10 cents. Sold at JACKSON'S BOOK SHOP, 986-988 MAIN STREET

SENAT AUTHORIZES INVESTIGATION OF OYSTER GROUNDS

(Special from United Press.)
Hartford, June 22.—The Senate did a lot of business at today's session. Favorable reports were received on a bill authorizing the Governor to appoint a committee of three to investigate the taxation of oyster properties at a compensation of not over $15 a day each. This carries an appropriation of $15,000. The Senate concurred in increasing the highway commission's office expenses to $15,000 a year, and also in making July 15th the date of final adjournment, though no one expects that adjournment will come on that date.

The measure under which savings banks deposits thirty years old would be taken to the State was taken from the table to admit of the introduction of amendments by Senator Goodwin and others. These raise the rate of interest which the State would pay to four per cent, and impose certain costs on the State. The bill was then taken up.

Former Speaker Kenely A Visitor at Capitol

(By our Staff Correspondent.)
Hartford, June 22.—Former Speaker Kenely, who has been dangerously ill with appendicitis, made his appearance today at the Capitol and was given a hearty reception. An additional ten days was allowed the public utilities commission to report a bill.

CITY COURT CASES

In the city court this morning Thomas McDonald was given 60 days to jail for being charged with vagrancy. It seems that Thomas was found on William street making a house to house canvass in an endeavor to secure a pair of shoes which he promptly sold to one Solkowski for the huge sum of ten cents. From that time on he was a blank to Thomas and will be for sixty days.

Joseph Bonoulli, of the Lafayette Hotel, was accused of violating the license laws and fined $150 and costs, but appealed in $150 bonds.

John Carpenter and Andrew Farrell, who were surprised at the corner of Main and Second streets, where they were found policy selling by Officers Joseph Coughlin and Alex Johnson, were held in jail of $500 until Thursday.

DIED.
COATES—In this city, June 22d, 1909, CHARLES W. Coates, aged 62 years, 6 months, 21 days.

Friends are invited to attend the funeral at his late residence, No. 697 Noble avenue, on Thursday 24th inst. at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

Burial in Lakeview cemetery. a p

THE PARK CEMETERY

Located in North Bridgeport, on high sandy ridges. Carriage entrance on Main street, or cars from Reservoir avenue. Improved lots for sale on many terms. Two telephones at Cemetery. Superintendent's Office, 975; Superintendent's House, 514, on City street. 960 City Exchange, Telephone 782.

MONUMENTS

ARTISTIC—LASTING.
Plant operated by pneumatic cutting and polishing tools.

HUGHES & CHAPMAN,

500 STRATFORD AVENUE, Bridgeport, Conn. R 19 17

BARGAINS IN FLOWERING PLANTS

GERANIUMS 10c each and hundreds of Bedding Plants at reasonable prices

at JAMES HORAN & SON Florists

WEDDING BOUQUETS

and ..... DECORATIONS

JOHN RECK & SON Tel. 789-3. 985 MAIN STREET

ANOTHER PICTURE OF MRS. GOULD

MILLIONAIRE'S WIFE, SMILING AND HAPPY, AS WITNESSES TELL OF GOOD CONDUCT

None Ever Heard Her Swear

Theatrical Manager Testifies that He Was of Party When She Went Riding with Actor Farnum—Hotel Proprietor Contradicts Testimony of Waiter.

(Special from United Press.)
New York, June 22.—Katherine Clemons Gould had her last May in her suit for separation from her millionaire husband, Howard Gould. In contrast with her experience of last week, she sat smiling and happy, which witnesses told of her past life from a far different point of view and in far different language from that evidence introduced in her husband's behalf.

Several witnesses told of having known Mrs. Gould several years and of having seen her almost daily during various periods, each one swearing that she was never under the influence of liquor and never cursed.

She was most blessed of all when James H. Paulsen, who was manager of the production of the play, "The Virginian," in which Dustin Farnum played, 1906, swore that on the last night of the week's engagement in Brooklyn in September, 1906, he accompanied Mrs. Gould and Farnum in an automobile from Brooklyn to New York after the play. The chauffeur who drove the car, had testified for Gould that Mrs. Gould and Farnum were the only persons in the car.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. William W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll House at Lynchburg, Va., also swore that he had known Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum and Mrs. Gould at the hotel were two floors apart and that he never saw them together.

HEAT TRIES MANY, PROSTRATES ONE

Today and Yesterday Two of the Hottest June Days City Has Experienced.

Ice and ice cream are king and queen today and everyone who meets feels duty bound to tell you that it is hot. Despite the fact that yesterday and today were the hottest so far this year, there was only one case of heat prostration reported up to this afternoon.

Yesterday was an unusual day in two respects; it was the hottest day of the year and also the longest. The thermometer registering at 3 p. m. 89 degrees in the shade. Today at 2:15 p. m. 86 degrees was registered, and it was evident that yesterday's record would be broken.

The one prostration was that of a man named Owen Bowen, who is much feeble by age. Bowen for the past few years has been living in the lodging houses of the city, and today while making his way up Wall street succumbed to the intense heat and was carried to St. Vincent's hospital.

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram" At Poli's Last Night.

One of the few cool places in the city last night was Poli's theatre. Had this information been generally known, the audience of first nighters that saw the performance of "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" would have been larger. As it was, the theatre appeared to be somewhat below that of the usual first performance in the house.

The play was pleasingly rendered and gave excellent satisfaction to those who saw it. Although the general feeling was that John Ince does not exhibit his full strength in straight full dress parts, his forte appearing to be more particularly in parts that call for rough graining and strong action.

John Temple took a ride on a Ferris wheel. The wheel stuck and stalled at night and a lady who was in the car of the wheel with a lady he had never seen before. But this was too raw a story for Mrs. Temple, who would have another story. Therefore Temple told her that he spent the evening with Brown. Straightway to Brown's address Mrs. Temple telegraphed. So Temple induced a friend to be Brown. And then it turned out that the woman of the car was the housewife of the man who had a real wife. Moreover the real Brown was Mrs. Temple's hairdresser, who seeing the telegram believed he had made a hit. But the real Mrs. Brown saw the telegram too and this made her jealous.

John Temple took a ride on a Ferris wheel. The wheel stuck and stalled at night and a lady who was in the car of the wheel with a lady he had never seen before. But this was too raw a story for Mrs. Temple, who would have another story. Therefore Temple told her that he spent the evening with Brown. Straightway to Brown's address Mrs. Temple telegraphed. So Temple induced a friend to be Brown. And then it turned out that the woman of the car was the housewife of the man who had a real wife. Moreover the real Brown was Mrs. Temple's hairdresser, who seeing the telegram believed he had made a hit. But the real Mrs. Brown saw the telegram too and this made her jealous.

Deaths and Funerals

Charles W. Coates, a well known resident of East Bridgeport, died this morning at his home, 12 Noble avenue, with cerebral hemorrhage, at the age of 62 years. The deceased up to the time of his death was employed as a night watchman with the Singer Manufacturing Co. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, the wife of R. M. Osborne.

Funeral services over the remains of Emma E. wife of James R. Hubbard, were held this afternoon from her late residence at 12 Noble avenue. The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Holman. The interment was in Oaklawn cemetery.

Funeral services over the remains of a prominent resident of Black Rock, died at his home in Nash Lane, yesterday afternoon, at the age of 63 years. The deceased was the late John W. Cornell & Patterson Mfg. Co.

Famous Artist Divorced By His Wife Following Proof of Infidelity

Eleanor M. Stimson, of Plainfield, N. J., was today, in the Superior Court, granted a divorce from her husband, Frederick Stimson, who is a well known artist and author of "The Book Beautiful," a masterpiece of art work who resides in Redding. The ground for the divorce was the adultery of the husband. The divorce was granted by Judge Soleybury, Pa., was named and proven the co-respondent.

The suit is a cross complaint in a suit brought by the husband some time ago. They were married June 1, 1882. In April, 1898, the wife decided to go to Europe with a yacht club. The husband objected. They corresponded with each other over the waters, finally agreeing to live apart. When the husband returned home, he found the wife in the arms of another man. The husband then filed for divorce.

The suit is a cross complaint in a suit brought by the husband some time ago. They were married June 1, 1882. In April, 1898, the wife decided to go to Europe with a yacht club. The husband objected. They corresponded with each other over the waters, finally agreeing to live apart. When the husband returned home, he found the wife in the arms of another man. The husband then filed for divorce.

The suit is a cross complaint in a suit brought by the husband some time ago. They were married June 1, 1882. In April, 1898, the wife decided to go to Europe with a yacht club. The husband objected. They corresponded with each other over the waters, finally agreeing to live apart. When the husband returned home, he found the wife in the arms of another man. The husband then filed for divorce.

The suit is a cross complaint in a suit brought by the husband some time ago. They were married June 1, 1882. In April, 1898, the wife decided to go to Europe with a yacht club. The husband objected. They corresponded with each other over the waters, finally agreeing to live apart. When the husband returned home, he found the wife in the arms of another man. The husband then filed for divorce.

The suit is a cross complaint in a suit brought by the husband some time ago. They were married June 1, 1882. In April, 1898, the wife decided to go to Europe with a yacht club. The husband objected. They corresponded with each other over the waters, finally agreeing to live apart. When the husband returned home, he found the wife in the arms of another man. The husband then filed for divorce.

The suit is a cross complaint in a suit brought by the husband some time ago. They were married June 1, 1882. In April, 1898, the wife decided to go to Europe with a yacht club. The husband objected. They corresponded with each other over the waters, finally agreeing to live apart. When the husband returned home, he found the wife in the arms of another man. The husband then filed for divorce.

The suit is a cross complaint in a suit brought by the husband some time ago. They were married June 1, 1882. In April, 1898, the wife decided to go to Europe with a yacht club. The husband objected. They corresponded with each other over the waters, finally agreeing to live apart. When the husband returned home, he found the wife in the arms of another man. The husband then filed for divorce.

The suit is a cross complaint in a suit brought by the husband some time ago. They were married June 1, 1882. In April, 1898, the wife decided to go to Europe with a yacht club. The husband objected. They corresponded with each other over the waters, finally agreeing to live apart. When the husband returned home, he found the wife in the arms of another man. The husband then filed for divorce.

FIVE-YEAR BOY KILLED BY CAR

LITTLE SON OF ANDERSONS ALMOST CUT IN TWO BY CONN. CO.'S WORK CAR.

He Died In Few Minutes

Charles Freeman, Motorman, Disclaims Responsibility, Saying that Child Ran Unexpectedly in Front of Him.

Richard Anderson, aged 5 years, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson of 172 Morehouse street, was killed by a trolley work car at 11:45 o'clock this morning, while crossing in the roadway in Fairfield avenue, near Fox street. The boy was struck at an hour afterwards at St. Vincent's hospital. The boy was practically cut in two, both legs being cut off near the abdomen.

Several eye witnesses to the killing state that the boy was behind a sprinkling cart and darted out from behind the cart only to be howled over and run down by the car. The ambulance was called and made splendid time taking the boy to the hospital.

The child was killed in the sight of a score or more of his little playmates as he was returning home from the Black Rock school, and many of the little folk were later stricken at the sight of the boy being ground beneath the wheels of the car. They cried and shrieked and one little girl fainted at the sight.

Little Richard was on one side of the street when some of the school children called to him to cross over. He passed behind the sprinkling cart and did not notice the approaching car, which is the one used by the linemen with a platform roof.

The motorman was Charles Freeman, an old employee of the company, who has never had a serious accident before. The car was not running fast and all those who saw the accident do not place any blame upon him. One side of Fairfield avenue is torn up and there is little crossing done along the avenue at the point where the accident occurred.

The boy's parents reached St. Vincent's hospital just a few minutes before we did. The little fellow has been going to school for a full term and has crossed the avenue successfully four times a day, being out the look-out for automobiles and trolley cars as a rule. Today the presence of the sprinkling cart made it impossible for him to see the approaching car, and the accident came.

The father is a journeyman plumber.

Claim Two Cent Fare Law Cost Railroad $15,000,000

Chicago, June 22.—A bulletin just made public by the Bureau of Railway News and Statistics shows that the operation of the two-cent fare law in Illinois cost the railroads of the state $15,000,000 during the last fiscal year.

On this point the bureau takes issue with the report of the Illinois State and Warehouse Commission, which states that the roads showed an increase of nearly $2,000,000 in earnings from the operation of the law. The lower rate is said to have been due to a change in the method and not to increase.

German Commissioner Watches Meat Packing Investigation

St. Louis, June 22.—The Secretary of Agriculture's investigation into conditions in the East St. Louis packing plants took a new turn yesterday, when it was learned that Nikolaus Aumann, German Imperial Commissioner at Washington, had been in St. Louis for three days watching the proceedings for his Government.

Mr. Aumann has been staying at the Planters Hotel, registered as "N. Kaumanns, Chicago." His presence here may affect the meat relations of this country and Germany.

CALEB CAMP'S FUNERAL

(Special from United Press.)
Winsted, June 22.—One of the largest funerals in the history of this town held at the afternoon when Caleb J. Camp, formerly president of the Connecticut Western Railroad and a prominent citizen, was buried. Five ministers participated in the services held at the home of the deceased at 2 o'clock and the eulogy was delivered by the Rev. L. H. Hellett, Lewiston.

Mr. Camp was formerly pastor of the Congregational Church here. The honorary pall bearers were directors of the Hurlbut National Bank. Interment was made in the Central Cemetery.

LIPTON WILL TRY AGAIN FOR CUP

(Special from United Press.)
London, June 22.—Sir Thomas Lipton, despite the turning down by the New York Yacht Club of his last challenge for the America's cup, hasn't completely abandoned hope of yet being able to send over a challenge that will win the cup.

Westwood, private secretary of Sir Thomas, clearly indicated to-day that the reputed rumors that Lipton was opposed to the "pure racing type of yacht," contending that it is impossible to build a boat of sufficient proficiency in lines to have a chance in such a race. He will issue a formal challenge if the New York club intimates its willingness to accept it. The doesn't want to be embarrassed against by the club's refusal.

Yale Inherits $400,000 As F. C. Hewett Legacy

New Haven, June 22.—It is officially stated at the office of the Yale University Treasurer that the agreement with the relatives of Frederick C. Hewett of Oswego, N. Y., of the class of '88, to his legacy is final and that there will be no contest in the courts. Under the arrangement as made Yale will inherit $400,000, or $100,000 less than the university was to receive under the terms of the will and the payment to the university will be made before long. The legacy will be added to the general university fund.

With the exception of the bequest made by the late Joseph E. Sheffield to the Yale Scientific school, the Hewett bequest ranks among the largest ever made to Yale, and has been excused only by one individual gift—that made several years ago by John D. Rockefeller.

An inventory of the estate of the late Hannah O'Brien returned to probate today showed real estate valued at $1,000,000 and personal property valued at $252.

Mr. and Mrs. William Briner of Princeton are guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Buday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Briner of Princeton are guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Buday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Briner of Princeton are guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Buday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Briner of Princeton are guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Buday.

HOWLAND'S

Entrances on Main street, Fairfield avenue and Cannon street.

Bridgeport, Conn., Tuesday, June 22, 1909. The Weather—Fair tonight; partly cloudy tomorrow.

Wash dresses, such as we sell usually at $3.75 to $8.75--

$3.00

A sum which is hardly more than the usual charge of a dress-maker for her services, here are attractive and serviceable wash dresses for women and for large girls.

Exact duplicates of some of them were in regular stock at the moment this was written—but prices were $6.75 and $8.75 instead of $3. That is quite a difference, is it not?

'Tis all due to two things. In the first place, manufacturers like to clean stocks up just as soon as they can. In the second place, some of these dresses have minor hurts. Only a keen and critical inspector's eyes could find most of those hurts; you'll see them only with difficulty, that is certain. And they take not one bit off from the prettiness or the wearing-ability of the dress. But, how they have taken from its price! That is the great attraction.

One-piece dresses; in solid colors such as pink and blue and tan and white; in pretty checks and fancy patterns; trimmed with lace and insertion and sometimes embroidered by hand in pretty patterns; in all sizes from 34 and in girls' sizes from 14 to 16; such dresses as you have cheerfully and freely bought at $3.75 to $8.75. $3.00

Placed on sale Wednesday morning. Second floor.

Big rugs and small, all at big savings.

Solid and handsome rugs from the famous mills of Alexander Smith & Sons' company are yours at a big saving—if you act with promptness.

In April, the Smith mills auctioned off all the accumulation of the year. It was a big lot for these mills run all the time whether there are orders on hand or not. It was a good lot, too, for the Smith mills don't make any but good rugs and carpets.

Our purchases at that auction have only just arrived. They have been quickly made ready for selling—and here are the savings they offer:—

Nepperhan tapestry Brussels rugs, made without a seam, in attractive patterns of small design as well as the effective Oriental and flowered designs:—

6 by 9 feet, regular $8.50, —$6.50

7½ by 9 feet, regular $11,—$8

8½ by 10½ feet, regular $13.50,—$10

Manor tapestry Brussels seamless rugs, handsome of patterns and in tasteful combinations of color, 9 by 11 feet, regular price $14,—$10.

Axminster rugs, of fine quality, for the Smith mills were pioneers in the making of these soft rich rugs; beautiful flowered and Oriental designs:—

8½ by 10½ feet, regular $19,—$16.50.

9 by 12 feet, regular $22.50,—$19.50.

Oriental Axminster rugs of small size, very attractive of pattern and finish, 27 by 60 inches, regular price $2.25,—$1.75.

Yard-wide rugs running in odd lengths from 56 to 58 inches up to about 72 inches in length, nice patterns and fine quality, regular price $2.50 to $3.50,—$1.75 to $2.75.

Axminster and velvet carpets in handsome patterns and rich combinations of color, in patterns that have matching border as well as those to be used without border, regular price $1.10 a yard,—90c.

Tapestry Brussels carpet for use on stairs and in hall, small patterns and deep colors, regular price 90c a yard,—79c.

Third floor.

THE HOWLAND DRY GOODS CO.

COLLEGE MEN AT STEEPLECHASE

Among the young college men at Steeplechase Island, all chums of Neil Boynton '08, at Holy Cross, who are here for the summer, are: Robert P. Sweeney, Boston, Holy Cross, '09, recently elected captain of Holy Cross football team for the current year; Edwin Gorman, Chicago, Holy Cross, '10; Edward V. Murphy, Fall River, Mass., Holy Cross, '08; James McCabe, Holy Cross, '08, instructor of English and History, Clinton High School, New York City; Edwin H. Hurlbut, Holy Cross, '08; William McKnight, Fall River, Mass., Holy Cross, '08; Harvard Medical School, 1911; William A. Flanagan, New York City, Holy Cross, '10; and Joe Curley, Bridgeport, Villa Nova, '11.

STOLID CHINESE DEFIES POLICE

(Special from United Press.)
New York, June 22.—A dull, stolid Chinese, his forehead beady with sweat, and his new clothing ruffled and awry, after 24 hours of "third degree," by the police baffled and at bay, although they are convinced that his brain holds the solution to the mystery of the kidnapping of Elsie Sigel whose dead body was found jammed in a trunk in the room of Leon Ling.

The Chinaman who has the mangled and bloody body of the dead girl held under a bond of $5,000. The case was continued for one week.

(Special from United Press.)
New Haven, June 22.—When Ann Fish of Palmer street was arraigned at the police court to-day on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Fannie Kap-pinow by performing an illegal operation, the charge was changed to second degree murder and the woman was held under a bond of $5,000. The case was continued for one week.

(Special from United Press.)
New Haven, June 22.—When Ann Fish of Palmer street was arraigned at the police court to-day on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Fannie Kap-pinow by performing an illegal operation, the charge was changed to second degree murder and the woman was held under a bond of $5,000. The case was continued for one week.